What is included in your fees

Tuition fees include contact training hours, coursework assessment, clinical supervision and client referrals. Tuition fees do not include personal therapy or the provision of consulting rooms for seeing training clients. The Minster Centre Enrolment fee covers Minster Centre membership, common room facilities and refreshments, access to the library and a range on-line resources.

Fees will be increased from one academic year to the next only where this is due to external factors eg changes in the requirements of accrediting organisations or inflation. We will endeavour to keep any such increase as low as possible, and in 2011 have increased fees by less than half the level of inflation.

Deposits and Payment Arrangements

If accepted on the Foundation or First Year, candidates pay a non-refundable deposit of £700. When they return following the first half-term Foundation and First Year students become liable for the full year's fees. All other students become liable for the full year's fees at the beginning of the academic year.

We recognise that our training represents a substantial financial commitment, and offer three ways of paying: outright at the start of the year, (attracting a £50 discount), termly in advance, or monthly by Standing Order.

Termly and annual fees may be paid by credit card without surcharge.
